PREFACE TO VOLUME VI.

JUST a few words of preface to this, the last Volume of the consolidated Digest of Cases.

When the manuscript of this edition was just ready for the Press, I was offered by the Secretary of State for India the appointment of Reporter for the Indian Law Reports in the Privy Council, the acceptance of which necessitated my leaving India at once. Amongst other regrets at leaving was one that I could not myself bring the work to a completion and prolong my Indian career until its publication. The Government, however, kindly allowed me to delegate the work of taking the Digest through the Press, and I was fortunate enough to enlist the services, for that purpose, of Mr. E. H. Monnier, of the Calcutta Bar, who was strongly recommended to me, and who has done that portion of the work extremely well: so that I have little or nothing to regret at not having been able to do it myself. I now wish to place on record here my high appreciation of Mr. Monnier's excellent work, and of the very great assistance I have received from the care and ability with which he has performed the important part of the work entrusted to him. My intention was to prepare for the press myself this volume containing the Index of Cases in the Digest; but, as I could not have had the names of the cases finally finished until I received the file copy to the end of the 5th volume, which would have been late in the year, and as, after that, the arrangement of the cases in alphabetical order would have taken me some time, and delay would also have occurred during the transmission of the manuscript to the Press in Calcutta (to say nothing of the risk of the loss of it, or some portion of it, in transit), I decided to delegate that part of the work also to Mr. Monnier, and feel confident that he will expend the same good work and the same care on it as he has done on the other portion of the work.

With the publication of this volume, the work on the case law of India which I have for a considerable number of years endeavoured to do for the assistance of the Government, my profession, and the public generally, comes, so far as my part in it is concerned, to an end. My object has been to put the case law into a definite and accessible form. The attainment of such an object is difficult, if not (as with the statute law) almost impossible. But my endeavours will be followed by those of others (it is indeed a task which must well be taken up permanently by Government), and no doubt further progress will in time be made towards such an end. I hope I may claim by this compilation to have laid a foundation upon which an edifice of case law can be erected, and if it prove to be a step toward the attainment of the object I have had in view, I shall be satisfied and rewarded by the knowledge that some measure of success has attended my efforts, and that my labour has not been in vain.

J. VERE WOODMAN.
